'Feel the fear...

A conference by and predominantly targeted at the Asian community on 'grooming gangs' and child sexual exploitation. Interested in finding out more about this subject but have a fear that it stigmatises Muslims and other minorities while giving ammunition to extremist groups? We invite you to a conference that will dispel the myths, provide hard facts as well as explore ways in which all communities can play a role in protecting our children.

and do it anyway'

A phenomenal line-up of many expert speakers including:

With the kind support of

Inspire Life

Nazir Afzal

Formerly the Chief Crown Prosecutor responsible for prosecuting the Rochdale gang.

Dr Ella Cockbain

Academic, researcher and author (UCL). Specialist in the areas of sexual exploitation and human trafficking.

Holly Archer (Holly Project) - Survivor of exploitation and author of the book "I never gave my consent - A school girl's life inside the Telford sex ring".

Sara Rowbotham

The whistleblower in the Rochdale case as featured in the BBC hit drama "Three Girls".

Aagrah meal included.

To cover the cost of venue/catering there is charge of £15 for everyone attending UNLESS you are representing a statutory agency such as the Council, Police or Health or the Private sector in which case the charge is £65. If the charge is an issue, contact the organisers as concessions are available.
