HDN Roundtable Briefing

Our briefing following our recent member roundtable event on the riots and Islamophobic violence is now available.

Read about what Amanda Garrard, Chief Executive at Berneslai Homes, Anthony Duerden, Chief Executive at Calico Group and Bajjit Basra, Partner at Devonshires had to say about the riots, the responses of their organisations and the legal remedies available to landlords.

At HDN we encourage the housing sector to play a leading role in the community response to this violent unrest – supporting those most affected, redoubling their efforts to maintain continuity, and playing their part in healing the harms caused by this violence.

Boards and executive teams should show leadership and direction, as this work forms an important part of an organisation's equality and diversity strategy.

Speaker Opportunities at NHF's Upcoming Conferences

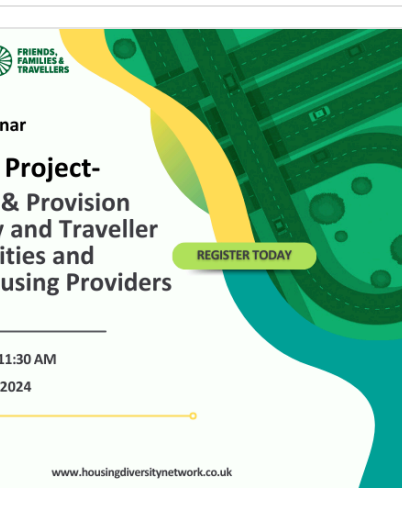

The National Housing Federation (NHF) is looking for speakers from diverse backgrounds for their upcoming conferences. They want to highlight a wide range of perspectives, with a focus on increasing the representation of people from ethnic minority backgrounds.

Becca Murphy, Conference Producer for NHF, has created a list of upcoming conferences and events with information on speaker opportunities.

Addressing Antisemitism and Its Global Impact on Housing Communities

We are pleased to share our latest article on antisemitism. Colin Heyman discusses how, although the situation in the Middle East may not directly affect social housing organisations, its global repercussions, including in the UK, can still impact your employees and tenants.

In these challenging times, finding common ground and mutual support is more important than ever. Islamophobia and antisemitism have no place in our society. It is crucial that we address these issues with both urgency and compassion.
